

(6)

Date _____

Page _____

B Fill in the blanks:

1. A life without a friend is not worth living.
2. The king inspected the dolls minutely.
3. The first doll had a hole in both the ears.
4. Three dolls represented three types of friends.
5. A true friend listens to you carefully and kindly.

C Write T for 'True' and F for 'False'

1. We must learn to keep good friends [T]
2. We should be careful in our words and behaviour with our friends. [T]
3. We should utter careless and angry words against our friends [F]
4. We should not hesitate to apologise to our friends. [T]
5. We must make new friends and forget the old ones [F]

c write T for 'True' and F for 'False':

1. Listening is an art T
2. Listening is an active process T
3. Hearing and listening are the same F
4. We listen only to what we like T
5. We can listen if we are distracted F

(ii) for hearing is passive. In order to listen, we have to be active and attentive.

4 Why do people not usually listen well?

Ans. We don't listen because we lack interest. We tend to pay attention to what interests us. We talk more and listen less. When we have an argument with somebody, we are not bothered about what that person says.

B Fill in the blanks:

1. In order to listen, we have to be active and attentive.
2. We do not listen because we lack interest.
3. Problems can be solved only if one is prepared to listen.
4. A good listener is a good leader.

(10) Date _____
Page _____

Chapter 4: Asst. of Listening.

A Answer the following questions:

1. What is listening?

Ans. Listening is the process of using the ears, the eyes and the brain to understand what the speaker is saying.

2. Why is listening more important than speaking?

Ans. When we want to listen, we must stop talking. We cannot listen when we are talking. Listening reduces mistakes and misunderstandings. Listening makes life better for the listeners as well as for the speakers.
"Talk less and listen more"

3. How is listening different from hearing?

Ans. Listening is not just hearing, it is a sincere effort to understand something, the other person is saying. What we hear does not register,

④

chapter 2: Choosing your Friends

A Answer the following questions:

1 Why do we need friends?

Ans. All human beings need company because they cannot live alone. We often need the help of others and others also need our help. A life without friends is not worth living. To share our joys and sorrows, we should make good friends.

2 What are the most important qualities of a good friend?

Ans. Some of the most important qualities of a good friend.

- ① kindness
- ② Honesty
- ③ individuality
- ④ protective
- ⑤ Trustworthy
- ⑥ helpfulness
- ⑦ Respectful
- ⑧ Encouragement
- ⑨ caring
- ⑩ forgiveness etc.

4 What was the woman doing?

Ans. The woman was cleaning the floor, when the thief entered the jewellery shop.

5 How did the woman teach a lesson to the thief?

Ans. Instead of complying, the brave woman grabbed a broom with a stick handle and started hitting the thief over his head and began shouting at the same time for help.

B Fill in the blanks:

1. Hiding truth can cause suffering to others.
2. The thief had a knife in his hand.
3. The brave woman hit the thief with a broom.
4. The people in the street were cowards.

chapter 3: courage

A. Answer the following questions:

1 What is courage?

Ans. Courage is the quality of mind which enables one to face danger and difficulties with firmness and without fear. It is a good trait of one's character. To be courageous, one has to be truthful and honest with a strong willpower.

2 Where is the real test of courage?

Ans. The real test of courage is taken in our daily lives. It takes courage to speak the truth as people tell lies to hide their faults and weaknesses.

3 Who entered the jewellery shop?

Ans. A thief entered the jewellery shop.

(2)

classmate

Date

Page

the waterfall stood a nest in a crack in the rock where a small white bird sat on her eggs.

4 Why did the second masterpiece win the prize?

Ans. True peace does not mean to be in a place which is cut-off from the troubles of life or from the hard work of life. Peace means to be in the midst of all troubles yet be calm at heart.

B Fill in the blanks:

1. The theme of the painting competition was True Peace.

2 Artists painted far into the night.

3 The king decided to judge the competition

4 The second painting showed rugged and bare mountains

Chapter 1: TRUE PEACE

①

A Answer the following questions:

1. What competition did the king organise?

Ans. The king decided to hold a picture painting competition.

2. Who were the members of the jury for the painting competition?

Ans. Two prominent citizens of the state were the members of the jury.

3. Describe the two paintings selected by the jury.

Ans. One picture showed a calm, silent lake against the background of peaceful mountains rising into the blue sky above, that had tufts of white clouds. Another picture showed rugged and bare mountains with a dark sky above showing lightning and dense clouds. From the mountains flowed a turbulent waterfall. On the side of

C Write T for 'True' and F for 'False':

1. Courage cannot be taught F
2. It takes courage to speak the truth T
3. The woman was ready to meet the challenge T
4. The owner of the jewellery shop called the police F
5. The thief had run away for his life even before the police arrived T

3 What types of friends did the dolls represent? (5)

Ans. ① Worst kind of friend
② second rate friend (not so good)
③ best kind of friend

4 Why did the first doll stand for the worst kind of friend?

Ans. Because, If you tell about your troubles to it, it will pretend to listen but it won't care. When it hears something, it passes out of his head without leaving any impression on its mind. It cannot help anyone.

5 What kind of friend did third doll represent?

Ans. The third doll represents the best kind of friend.

5 There was no explanation required for the first picture.

c Write T for 'True' and F for 'False':

1. The Prime Minister was the head of the jury F
2. The Queen did not agree with the rest of the members of the jury T
3. The King was very learned and fond of art T
4. The jury selected three paintings F